BEHAVIORAL SUPPORT

Do you or someone you know have challenging behaviors that interfere with work, community, or home life?

Skilled Behavior Analysts and Positive Behavior Support Facilitators will use your strengths and interests to develop an individualized support plan for you and your team. Plans are designed to help develop and increase positive behaviors that are proven to lead to success while at the same time helping you decrease behaviors that lead to challenges. Funding is available through DARS, Medicaid Waiver & other sources. Contact us for more information.

“Thank you for the support and the resources you provided [my son]. He started using them and is able to communicate with us much better now.”

-Heather Embrey, parent
